The objective of the present work is to propose a Strategic Plan for the dissemination of social work and culture of peace of the National System of Youth and Children's Orchestras and Choirs of Venezuela, in the Los Dos Caminos Urbanization, Sucre Municipality, Miranda State. The methodology used was qualitative research, with a field design, within the Feasible Project modality. A diagnosis was made to inquire about the knowledge of the social work and peace culture programs of the National System of Youth and Children's Orchestras and Choirs of Venezuela, of the inhabitants of the community of Los Chorros, Los Dos Caminos Urbanization, Sucre Municipality, Miranda State. The population consisted of one thousand and twenty inhabitants of the aforementioned locality, and twenty teachers from the Los Chorros Nucleus were interviewed to supplement the information. We used the Simple Sampling technique and the survey as a data collection technique, with a dichotomous questionnaire of thirteen questions. It was determined that there is a lack of information in the population about El Sistema's social programs. Likewise, it was recommended to apply a Strategic Plan for dissemination of social work and culture of peace of El Sistema.
