no consiste en su oro ni en su plata, sino en su saber, en su sabiduría y en la rectitud de sus hijos”.*
